Some examples of apprenticeships currently available include mortgage advisors, vehicle service technicians, care workers, nursery practitioners, carpentry, accounting, sports coaching and much more!

Wiltshire Labour Market Information: A Summary

Current employment forecasts for 2016-2036 predict that there will be an additional 30, 000 jobs becoming available over this time. The sectors where it is expected that we will see the most significant growth are:

- Construction
- Financial and Business Services
- Education and Health

Choosing qualifications and developing skills essential for careers in these sectors will give you the best opportunities for securing a job.
